10 Professors Will Receive Grants

Research Fund Totals $8,450

By LARRY ASCOUGH
Editor-In-Chief

A total of 10 faculty members have received funds for summer research projects as the result of the $7,500 Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation grant, announced last week, according to Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs.

The 10 recipients will receive a total of $8,450. Dr. Walker, also chairman of the Research Board, explained that the extra $950 will come from additional funds which the board has been accumulating.

Topics Vary

The areas of the summer research projects range from West Virginia ferns to "An Interpretation of Shaw". The vice president said no individual figures were available.

The recipients and their area or areas of research include: Dr. Elizabeth Cometti, professor of history, "West Virginia History"; "Notable American Women" and "Daily Journal of Major David Cunningham"; William E. Francois, assistant professor of journalism, "Socio-economic conditions of miners in Southern West Virginia (human side of their story)"; Dr. Mahlon C. Brown, assistant professor of social studies, "A Study of the Terms of Contact Between the Groups of Labor and Management in the Huntington-Ashland-Ironton Metropolitan Area"; James P. Gillespie, instructor in science, a book on ferns and fern allies of West Virginia.

Names Listed

'Corn Is Green' Opens 3-Day Run Tomorrow

Tardy Teacher Policy Asked

The Student Senate voted unanimously Wednesday night to ask the administration to announce a clear policy as to the length of time that students are required to wait on a tardy instructor, and that the policy be made clear and certain to all students and faculty.

Due to some recent questions concerning the time a class should wait, the Senate felt that a policy should be adopted so that controversies would not develop between students and instructors. It was also pointed out that some instructors don't mind if the class leaves after a certain length of time and that other instructors will count such action as an unexcused absence.

Aubrey King, Jaeger senior, reported that the Human Rights Commission recently met with members of the newly organized Civic Interest Progressive Group. He said that the Progressives explained their purpose to the commission as well as the means by which they intend to accomplish their purpose. He also said that the Progressives expressed a desire to cooperate with the Human Rights Commission.

Other Senate action included the announcement of May 17 as the date for Spring Carnival which will be at Riverside Country Club. Brenda Hubbard, Williamson sophomore and Spring Carnival Commission coordinator, explained that the carnival will include a picnic, swimming party and an informal dance.

Student Body President Gary McMillan of Vienna, reported that the Senate's recommendation concerning the lowering of the required number of residency hours from 98 to 60, in order to graduate with honors, has been considered by the Academic Affairs Council. He also said that the recommendation must be considered by the State Board of Education.

Speakers Due To Recognize Top Students

By FRAN ALLRED
Managing Editor

Students enrolled in the Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar and the Departmental Honors Program will be recognized at the first Honors Convocation at 11 a.m. tomorrow in Old Main Auditorium.

Students who have earned a 3.5 or better average in either the 1962 spring semester or last semester also will be recognized.

Dr. Stanley J. Idzerda, director of the Honors College at Michigan State University, will speak on "Goals of a Scholar—Truth or Service."

Dr. Idzerda has been awarded baccalaureate degrees by the University of Notre Dame and Baldwin - Wallace College. He received his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Dr. Idzerda

Western Reserve University.

He joined Michigan State University faculty in 1952 as an assistant professor of humanities and was appointed as the first director of Honors College there in 1956.

Wendell English, Bluefield sophomore, will play the processional. The Rev. William Gardner of St. Josephs Catholic Church will give the invocation.

Introductions Planned

Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs, will introduce the guests. President Stewart H. Smith will present the guest speaker.

Following the address, Dr. Walker will recognize the honors students. Father Gardner will give the benediction and English will play the recessional.

Students in the two honor programs will be seated on the stage. Members of area high school honor societies and guests from surrounding colleges and universities have been invited to attend. So has the public and all Marshall students.

Visiting deans from Tri-State colleges, Cabell County Supt. Olin C. Nutter, high school principals and other dignitaries have been invited. Marshall students with 3.3 to 3.5 overall averages are especially urged to attend.

Students Named

Dr. Charles Moffat, professor of history, is Honor Program director and Dr. Ronald Rollins, assistant professor of English, is coordinator of the Honors Seminar.

Students enrolled in the Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar are Carolyn Sue Allen, Ivan Ash, Grace Barrett, Carolyn Christian, Tom Dorworth, Thomas Dunfee, John Eastham, Ruth Fuller, Diane Hinkle, Elaine Keagy, Aubrey King, Dore Jean Cochran, Becky McDaniel, Lucretia Metz, Joyce Rohr, Margaret Sayre, Michael Stump, Stuart Thomas, Juliet Willman and George White.

Those enrolled in the Departmental Honors Program are Gloria Jean Chafin, Carolyn Christian, Thomas Dunfee, Ruth Fuller, Ruth Grimm, James Harper, Darwin R. Harrold, Aubrey C. King, Bruce Nelson, Joyce Rohr, Karen Smith, Victoria Smith, Stuart Thomas, and Juliet Willman.

Sleepy Scholars Succumb To Spring Sickness

THE ROVING CAMERA OF THE PARTHENON captured the spirit of spring on the Marshall campus. Tomorrow is the vernal equinox when the length of day and night are almost equal. Sleepy Marty Sigel (left), Cumberland, Md., sophomore, seems to have a case of spring fever, which is not at all conducive to studying. Spring is not for students only. Walter Felty, associate professor of social studies, is shown napping during a test grading session. (P.S.: Both the student and the professor agreed to post as springtime models.)

Letter
To Editor

Dear Editor:

The Student Senate passed a motion the week before last abolishing the semi-proportional representation system of student elections. They did this by a vote of 23-1.

The possible results of this action have brought some questions to my mind: What does this mean to me as an unaffiliated student? I am a part of no social organization. If I choose to run for an office, how can I hope to win against a strong Greek organization, an organization which has deep roots in "my" Student Government?

If I choose to vote for an unaffiliate or Independent candidate, how can I hope that he will win because the "machine" will probably be against him? HOW can I win?

"My" Student Senate is now composed of 23 Greeks and one unaffiliate. The odds seem to be against me, do they not? Yes, they are against me, but they are against me only because of my lack of competitive organization. Perhaps, if I choose to organize against the "machine", I might win or my candidates might win.

I think the time has come for the Marshall student elections to return to the students. The past Spring's student body president's lop-sided victory seems to bear that out. Good old "organization" is a strong, effective weapon in any election.

I think it is high time at Marshall that we call for a mass organization of candidates into party groups, through which and by which we can hold an effective and informative election.

We are supposed to have a Student Government which is powerful and effective. I ask you—how powerful will it be if the students fail to recognize it? We have no system of parties here. We should have. We should have, because only then would we know that our Student Government is not just a front for the Greek social organization. Then we would know who is running it, and why they are doing so.

The time is coming when the Student Government must ask itself if it benefits the whole of the student body; that time is very near . . .

English Qualifying
Test Is Saturday

The next English Qualifying Examination will be given at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Science Hall Auditorium.

The examination is a requirement for graduation and is a prerequisite to be admitted to student teaching.

Students whose surnames begin with A-M should take the test Saturday. Those whose surnames begin with N-Z will take the test May 11.

Students in four-year program with 58 hours or more must take the examination. Engineering students with 68 or more hours, and students in two-year programs with 45 or more hours must take it.

ENGLISH MEETING SET

A meeting for those students eligible for the honorary English fraternity, Sigma Tau Delta, will be held March 28, at 11 a.m. in Main 207 to elected officers, approve the local constitution, set programs for the remainder of the year, and choose a sponsor.

Support Our Scholars!

Tomorrow Marshall University will experience another first—an Honors Convocation. The director of the Honors College at Michigan State University, Dr. Stanley J. Idzerda, will speak on the "Goals of a Scholar—Truth or Service." There also will be guests from area high schools and surrounding colleges and universities.

Students participating in the Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar and the Departmental Honors Program will be honored along with students who had a 3.5 academic average in either of the last two semesters.

Other activities have been included in this first Honors Convocation and everyone connected with the university has been invited. That means all students—honors or no honors—and it's up to the student body to support our honor students and to show our guests that Marshall University is interested in the Honors Program.

Many individuals have worked long hours to further the honors program on the campus—including Dr. Charles Moffat, Honors Program director; Dr. Ronald Rollins, coordinator of the Honors Seminar; and the students participating in both programs.

Certainly these individuals are worthy of recognition and support—and every student should make an effort to be in the Old Main Auditorium tomorrow to confirm this recognition and support. We support our athletic teams, fraternities and sororities and other organizations—let's all be there for the initial Honors Convocation.

Parthenon Lauds 'Et Cetera'

The editors of The Parthenon would like to congratulate the editors and staff of "Et Cetera" on the fine job they have done on this year's magazine.

It is encouraging to see literary efforts of students find an outlet. We hope that through such publications as "Et Cetera" that more students will be inspired to try their hand at writing prose and poetry.

Since we are now a university, students should be encouraged to raise the intellectual level of the campus through sources like "Et Cetera".

HAIL TO THE DEAN!

Today let us examine that much maligned, widely misunderstood, grossly overworked, wholly dedicated campus figure—the dean.

The dean (from the Latin Deanere—to expel) is not, as many think, primarily a disciplinary officer. He is a counselor and guide, a haven and refuge for the troubled student. The dean (from the Greek Deanos—to skewer) is characterized chiefly by sympathy, wisdom, patience, forbearance, and a fondness for homely pleasures like community singing, farina, spell-downs, and Marlboro Cigarettes. The dean (from the German Deange-macht—to poop a party) is fond of Marlboros for the same reason that all men of good will are fond of Marlboros—because Marlboro is an honest cigarette. Those good Marlboro tobaccos are honestly good, honestly aged to the peak of perfection, honestly blended for the best of all possible flavors. Marlboro honestly comes in two different containers—a soft pack which is honestly soft and a Flip-Top box which honestly flips. You too will flip when next you try an honest Marlboro, which, one honestly hopes, will be soon.

There is not a dry eye in Yutah

But I digress. We were learning how a dean helps poor, troubled undergraduates. To illustrate, let us take a typical case from the files of Dean S. . . . of the University of Y. . . . (Oh, why be so mysterious? The dean's name is Sigafos and the University is Yutah.)

Wise, kindly Dean Sigafos was visited one day by a freshman named Walter Aguinocourt who came to ask permission to marry one Emma Blenheim, his dormitory laundress. To the dean the marriage seemed ill-advised, for Walter was only 18 years old and Emma was 91. Walter agreed with the dean, but said he felt obligated to go through with it because Emma had invested her life savings in a transparent rainhood to protect her from the mist at Niagara Falls, where they planned to spend their honeymoon. If Walter called off the wedding, what use would the poor woman possibly have for a rainhood in Yutah? The wise, kindly dean pondered briefly and came up with a brilliant answer: let Walter punch holes in the back of Emma's steam iron. With steam billowing back at the old lady, she would find a rainhood very useful—possibly even essential.

Whimpering with gratitude, Walter kissed the dean's Phi Beta Kappa key and hastened away to follow his advice—and the results, I am pleased to report, were madly successful!

Today Emma is a happy woman—singing lustily, wearing her rainhood, eating soft-center chocolates, and ironing clothes—twice as happy, to be candid, than if she had married Walter . . . And what of Walter? He is happy too. Freed from his unwanted liaison with Emma, he married a girl much nearer his own age—Agnes Yucca, 72. Walter is now the proud father—stepfather, to be perfectly accurate—of three fine, healthy boys from Agnes's first marriage—Everett, 38; Wilhelm, 43; and Irving, 55—and when Walter puts the boys on a lead and takes them for a stroll in the park on Sunday afternoon, you may be sure there is not a dry eye in Yutah.

And Dean Sigafos? He too is happy—happy to spend long, tiring hours in his little office, giving counsel without stint and without complaint, doing his bit to set the young, uncertain feet of his charges on the path to a brighter tomorrow.

We don't say Marlboro is the dean of filter cigarettes, but we're sure it's at the head of the class. Get some soon—wherever cigarettes are sold in all fifty states of the Union.

TOM HOLLY
... Contest Runner-Up

Student Is Contest Runner-Up; Selects Time 'Man Of Year'

By JERRY REED
Sports Editor

What started out as a joke turned into a reality for Tom Holly, Uniontown, Pa., freshman, as he was runner-up in the Time Magazine Worst-Of-Text "Man of the Year" contest for 1962.

During the first of the year some students were passing out applications to enter the contest. Holly was one of the many to participate in this event and one of the few to win.

When I took the application I didn't know who to put down and a friend of mine suggested that since I was Catholic I should pick Pope John," Holly remarked.

As luck would have it Pope John XXIII was selected as "Man of the Year" by Time Magazine.

"I had completely forgotten about the contest until I received a letter last week saying that I was one of the runners-up," Holly said.

The letter was from William E. Drier of Time Marketing Services congratulating Holly on winning and informing him that he was one of 20 participants to correctly guess the name of the "Man of the Year." Along with the letter he received a set of four books out of the selection of Time Reading Program books.

According to Holly, if there are any more contests such as this one in the future, "I certainly will take advantage of them now that I know it's possible to win."

New Student Union To Take Shape After Current Bonds Are Paid Off

By PAT BLAIR
Staff Reporter

Marshall is on the way to a new two million dollar Student Union, according to Don Morris, manager of the Student Union.

Mr. Morris said "as soon as present bonds are paid off the advanced plans for our new union will begin."

Morris stated that when Marshall's new Student Union is completed it will contain such innovations as modern meeting rooms for campus organizations, bowling alleys, pocket pool and billiard tables, a ping-pong room and may contain sleeping quarters for visiting parents, dignitaries and athletes.

Recently President Stewart H. Smith and Mr. Morris visited a government agency in Philadelphia to inquire into the possibility of gaining financial support for construction of the new union. After consulting with the organization it was learned that when all bonds and loans are repaid the possibility of gaining financial support will be favorable.

Mr. Morris said that "since repaying the bonds is our main problem before we can have our new union, we must use all possible means of profit to repay them." He said the prime source of profit of the Union is the rental of the Union to on-and off-campus organizations, and the profit made at the fountain. Mr. Morris said that when the Union is rented to organizations, it receives a rental fee which, together with profits made at the fountain, is applied to bond payments.

Mr. Morris pointed out that in past years the Union has found it necessary, due to rising costs, to raise prices on some of the items sold at the Union fountain. This necessity stemmed from the possibility that if prices were raised, borrowed money could be paid back faster. He also said that even though the Union raised its prices, students still are able to eat at the Union for much less than any other off-campus establishment.

Mr. Morris added that if everything goes well, the remaining balance on the bonds should be repaid by the end of August.

1. I'll tell you what you have to look for in a job. You have to look for fringe benefits.
That's the big thing today.

Yes—the big thing.

2. You have to consider your needs. You're going to get married some day, aren't you? Then you need life and accident insurance.

Go on—go on—

3. You're going to have kids—so you'll want maternity benefits.

I'd like lots of children.

4. And what about medical bills? That's something every big family has to think about. You need a good major medical plan that covers almost everything.

5. And you're not going to want to work all your life, are you? You're going to want to take it easy—you know, travel around, live it up. So you need a retirement plan that guarantees you plenty of dough.

I can see it now.

6. That's why I say you have to look at the fringe benefits when you look for a job.

But don't you also have to look for interesting work, good income, the chance for advancement?

7. You sure do. That's why I'm going to work for Equitable. You get all those job advantages—and all the fringe benefits, too.

I admire your thinking.

High School Tourney Opens Tomorrow

Between 5,000 and 10,000 high school students will be on or around the Marshall campus starting tomorrow as the 50th West Virginia High School Basketball Tournament gets underway at Memorial Field House.

Marshall, which hosts the tournament alternate years along with West Virginia University, supplies the manpower to stage the biggest show in state high school basketball.

Heading the tournament workers in the role of tournament director is Athletic Director Neal B. "Whitey" Wilson assisted by Ray Cumberledge, assistant athletic director.

Housing for the 12 teams is under the supervision of Dean of Men Stanley Shaw. All twelve teams will be quartered on campus in the New Men's Residence Hall, Hodges Hall, the Student Union, and the dormitory of the New Physical Education Building.

The Rev. Lander Beal is in charge of student housing which is supplied at a moderate cost to the visiting students on and off campus.

Percy Galloway, Book Store manager, is heading the Field House ticket sales while Mrs. Betty Atkins, Athletic Department secretary, is heading advance ticket sales. Information Director Frank Spear is tournament news director.

F. A. Fitch, chairman of the Physical Education Department, is the official timer. Rick Josephs is the head statistician; Dave Collins will handle the public address duties, while Pete Shaffron is the tourney trainer. David Whipkey and Sonny Allen are the official scorers.

Dr. T. Craig McKee will be the official tournament physician while Paul Ketter will serve as dressing room manager.

Sgt. Richard Giles of the R.O.T.C. department will head the ushers and Dick Wildt will be in charge of team sponsors. Paul Collins, administrative assistant to the president, is the faculty coordinator and Student Government Business Manager David Curtis is student coordinator.

Mr. Cumberledge also will handle the Program Editors position, while Howard Sorrell of Buildings and Grounds, serves in the hospitality room.

Food Service Director William Spotts is heading the food division, and Gene Wilkerson of Building and Grounds is heading up the transportation.

Mr. Cumberledge said he felt the tourney provided "an excellent opportunity to show off the campus to out-of-town students." "We are happy to have the tournament here."

MU's Sig Eps Win Crown

The Marshall Sigma Phi Epsilon chapter captured the Sig Ep basketball championship by defeating the University of Cincinnati, 57-54, Sunday afternoon.

Larry Tincher and Chris Cremeans led their squad with 12 and 14 points respectively, but they had to fight off a strong effort by Cincinnati's Tony Germani who tallied 21 points.

The five-team tournament featured teams from MU, Cincinnati, University of Virginia, West Virginia Tech, and Davis and Elkins. The Sig Eps from MU had to defeat Tech to gain the position in the championship tilt. They did this with ease, winning 86-66 with Ed Peltz leading the way with 27 points while Chris Cremeans was close behind with 21 markers.

In the consolation game, the University of Virginia rolled over Tech 68-56.

The MU squad placed three men on the All-Tournament team as Ed Peltz, Chris Cremeans, and Larry Tincher won honors on this squad. The University of Cincinnati had two members on the team with Tony Garmani and Maris Kuga. Vern Driscoll and John Tenny of the University of Virginia, Tom Alford of Tech, and Scott Smiley of Davis and Elkins rounded out the All-Tourney team.

13-Game Tennis Schedule Set; Golden Eagles Are First Foes

The tennis team, under the direction of Coach Jack Noble, will have its first match on March 30 against Morris Harvey at the Golden Eagles' home courts.

Thinclads Taste 1st Competition

Marshall's varsity track team had its first taste of intercollegiate competition Saturday and head coach Charlie Kautz said he came away "satisfied" with the results.

"I think our times compared favorably with the times we had at about the same stage last year," Kautz commented. "In fact I would say they are better."

Kautz cited Jimmy Brown's effort in the high hurdles as the top MU performance of the day.

Marshall meets Concord April 11 in the next meet on the Marshall card.

DIs Due To Meet Morehead Quintet

Morehead State has contacted the Intramural Department trying to schedule a basketball game.

The DIs won the intramural championship and have accepted the challenge. Otto "Swede" Gullickson is going to set the dates for these games in the next week.

The spring sports program will start on March 25 beginning with the first softball game. The winter sports will wind up this week. All participants in chess and handball have to play their matches this week or the games will be forfeited.

U-Heights Family Living Is Outlined

In a meeting last week with Donald Court residents, Dean of Men Stanley A. Shaw outlined tentative plans for new residences for married students.

The 12 one-room efficiency apartments will rent for $45 per month and the 36 two-room apartments will rent for $55 including utilities. The apartments are divided into two three-story buildings. There are 25 apartments in the Norway Avenue building and 23 units in the Norwood Road Building at University Heights.

Dean Shaw told the 15 residents present at the meeting that the units will have "basic furnishings" consisting of an all-electric kitchen with electric range and six and one-half cubic foot refrigerator.

The apartments will not all be the same size, Dean Shaw said. The exact furnishings have not as yet been selected and color schemes will vary. The efficiency apartments will have sofa beds of some sort, he said. They may be the standard type or a kind that pull out of the wall to make a bed. The two-room units will consist of both a couch and a bed.

Donald Court residents will have first choice on the units. For example, married students with no children presently living in Donald Court could possibly get a two-room apartment over married students with children who do not presently live in the Court.

Students now living in Donald Court must furnish their apartments with the exception of a kitchen stove. Since the new dwellings are completely furnished, many Donald Court residents cannot move to the new units. "We feel it is unfair for us to dispose of our furniture that we had to buy to live in Donald Court in order to move to the new units," one resident said. "We couldn't afford to buy new furniture when we graduate or move from the new place."

No major appliances can be taken to University Heights and many residents with small children have washers and dryers that they use daily. The new units may have coin-operated washers and dryers in the basements. "We couldn't afford to pay to wash every day," said one resident. "Paying higher rent each month upsets our budgets enough."

"The six and one half cubic foot refrigerators will not be big enough for those of us with children, yet we can't take our larger refrigerators to the new campus," a resident complained.

"We are not trying to put a hardship on the people in Donald Court," Dean Shaw explained. "We thought we were helping you, not hindering you."

Dean Shaw said that furniture could not be moved out of the new apartments so students could use their own.

Walnut-type furniture with laminated tops will probably be used in the new units, he said. Residents will be responsible for unnecessary wear and tear and damage to the furniture and buildings.

Residents at the new dwellings will have a full bath and steam heat in their apartments. The heat will come from a central heating unit in each building.

The University is presently working with the telephone company to possibly install two or three pay telephones on each of the three floors in the buildings. If this is done, residents may not be able to have private phones. "This will have to be worked out with the telephone company," he said.

Residents will not be able to sub-lease their apartments during the summer if they are not in Huntington, Dean Shaw reported. They have been able to do this in Donald Court.

The lease on the land at Donald Court expires May 31. This would mean that Donald Court residents would have to move during final exam week. "We think we can extend the lease," Dean Shaw explained. "We don't feel that there will be a problem. You will definitely not have to move during final exam week."

Furnished apartments will be a great asset for future married students, Dean Shaw added. Of course, it works a hardship on Donald Court residents but, "we can't please everyone."

The nearest elementary schools are in Beverly Hills and the Pea Ridge area. There is, however, a school bus that stops near the new apartment buildings.

The husband in the family must be a full-time student and if for any reason he is no longer carrying 12 hours, the family will be given a 30-day notice to leave.

Donald Court residents must submit an application contract to live in the new apartments before April 1. After that time, another meeting will be scheduled with the residents, Dean Shaw said. "This first contract is not binding," Dean Shaw said. There is a waiting list of student not presently living in the Court.

"I am willing to talk with any resident of Donald Court and will consider any problem. However, I can't make any promises," Dean Shaw said.

Students may visit the new dwellings at any time, the dean said. Buildings and Grounds will be painting a few apartments for people to see, according to Ray Thompson, Donald Court house manager and maintenance supervisor.

Tryouts Scheduled For Cheerleaders

Tryouts for the varsity cheerleading squad will be held on April 4. Practices will begin next Monday through April 3.

The squad will consist of six regular members plus two alternates. Those who wish to try out must attend five of the seven practices to be eligible for tryouts.

Students must be at least a second semester freshman, have a 2.0 overall average, and must be single.

Further information may be obtained from Sherry O'Shea, Huntington senior.

Pianist To Give Recital Friday

Marshall University's Music Department will present Ronald Ross, Wayne senior, in his senior recital at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Old Main Auditorium.

His piano music will include: Partita No. 2 in C minor by Bach; Sonata Opus 2, No. 3 in C by Beethoven; Sonata No. 2 by Hindemith, and three works by Chopin: Prelude No. 1 in C, Prelude No. 15 in D flat and Waltz Opus 18 in E flat.

Ross, a pianist, is a student of Miss Joanne Drescher, assistant professor of music. He has served as president of Phi Mu Alpha, national men's professional music fraternity, and has been a member of the Brass Ensemble and Symphonic Choir. He received the Phi Eta Sigma Scholastic Award and the Outstanding Musician Award for 1961 and 1962.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jack Ross of Wayne.

Student Loan Program Qualifications Listed

Attending college in this day and age can be quite expensive for many students. This is where the National Defense Student Loan Program can give financial aid to students on fulltime status.

The specific purpose of the Student Loan Program, established under the National Defense Student Loan Program, is "to stimulate and assist, in the establishments at institutions of higher education, of funds for the making of low-interest loans to students in need thereof to pursue their courses of study in such institutions."

1. Students borrowers must be United States nationals.
2. Special consideration shall be given to "students with superior academic background who express a desire to teach in elementary and secondary schools"; and students whose academic background indicates a superior capacity or preparation in science, mathematics, engineering, or a modern foreign language.
3. The applicant must be a full-time student on either undergraduate level or have been accepted for admission as a full-time student in an institution of higher education.
4. The primary and most essential condition of an applicant's eligibility for a National Defense Student Loan is that he is in need of the requested loan in order to complete his course of study. The financial circumstances of both the applicant and his family must be evaluated.
5. The borrower shall be required to sign a promissory note payable to the institution.

Et Cetera Now On MU Campus

The "Et Cetera", campus literary magazine, was placed in the Student Union for distribution on Monday.

According to Ron Watson, Goldsboro, N. C. junior and associate editor of the magazine, 5200 copies were printed. The bulk of the copies will be distributed to students, faculty and administration. About 100 copies will be sent to other colleges and universities and the magazine advertisers. The remainder will be sold in Huntington.

"Et Cetera" contains short stories, poetry, and art work. The magazine is in a 10 by 12 inch format.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.

Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes.

So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?

Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.

How intelligent!

THESE ARE THE trophies that will be awarded to a Battle Group company, a fraternity, and a sorority with the highest participation in the blood drive held last week. Displaying the awards are (from left) Carl Honaker, Huntington freshman; Nancy Hodges, Huntington junior; Stewart Buckhammer, Akron, Ohio,

Classics Group Due At Parley

By PATTY HAYNER

Teachers College Journalist Representatives of Beta Upsilon chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classics honorary, will leave this afternoon to attend the national convention in Baltimore. Those making the trip are: Kathy Anglin, Huntington sophomore; Margaret Hanna, Milton junior; Charles Lloyd, Huntington freshman, and Cheryl Skidmore, South Charleston sophomore. The students will be accompanied by Dr. Lucy Whitsel, chairman of the Classics Department.

According to Dr. Whitsel, the group will arrive in Baltimore tomorrow afternoon and check into Emerson Hotel, convention headquarters. Convention business will be conducted Friday morning and, in the afternoon, the delegates will be conducted on a tour of the city by the host chapter Beta Kappa of Notre Dame. Later Friday evening the delegates will attend a benefit dinner sponsored by Beta Kappa and Beta Chi chapter of Loyola.

After another business session Saturday morning, the group will start for home. They will arrive back on the campus Sunday afternoon.

MU Grad Awarded $1,530 Fellowship

Richard L. Garretson, a Marshall graduate and a junior medical student at West Virginia University, has been awarded a $1,530 Foreign Fellowship which will permit him to work three months in a mission hospital in Borneo.

Garretson is one of 31 American medical students who have been chosen. The work will include both general hospital work and traveling work in a mobile clinic.
